

Trade Equities, Futures, and Forex Online On A Single Platform Through BESTDirect Securities: Multi-Asset-Class Brokerage Expertise

CHICAGO, May 26, 2009 – BESTDirect Securities, LLC, now offers products and services across the spectrum of listed equities, options, futures and forex markets, in response to consumer demand for a one-platform, one broker solution to their investing and trading needs.

Steven Zakrzewski heads BESTDirect Securities, LLC and directed the launch of the equity product capability for the company via BESTDirect 8.0™, a proprietary trading platform that features customer-driven innovation and customization for traders who use the technology for creating and managing a portfolio that spans multiple asset classes.

“Whether customers are looking to invest in a publicly traded company, stock options, energy, precious metals, currencies or any other electronically traded market, including spot forex, BESTDirect Securities offers seamless execution of orders and a fast, reliable, efficient service model,” said Mr. Zakrzewski. Customers configure their trading screens using almost an infinite variety of alternative ways to enter and execute orders, assign screen tabs, and organize account management functions for the markets they trade.
